LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

September 1980

Dear Reader:

From the records of the early history of man down to the present, leaders of society and government have expressed warnings about the dangers of internal subversion. As a means of maintaining the necessary degree of internal security, intelligence services have been formed.

Conversely, would-be conquerors have stressed the value of infiltration and subversion as a means of softening the victim society prior to conquest. Members of the intelligence community will remember the writings of Sun Tzu in his 500 B.C. classic, The Art of War. In stressing The Art of War from within, Sun Tzu observed that supreme art in warfare is not winning every battle. He felt the supreme art was in getting the enemy to surrender without having to fight the battle.

It is of special interest to read the words of Marcus Tullius Cicero regarding the danger of internal subversion. In a speech to the Roman Senate, as recorded by Sallust, Cicero said:

A nation can survive its fools and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and he carries his banners openly against the city. But the traitor moves among those within the gates freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears no traitor; he speaks in the accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their garments and he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation; he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of a city; he infects the body politic so that it can no

Announcing WESTERN GOALS REPORT—a monthly report on national and international affairs and the activities of those who seek to destroy our Republic...

The decade of the 80s has arrived as the Western World faces a challenge to its very existence by the forces of international Marxism led by the Soviet Union...

In this time of challenge, our only hope of survival is an informed electorate vigorously working to make their views known...

WESTERN GOALS REPORT, drawing on the resources of seasoned international correspondents and veteran political analysts, will provide you with information from the United States Congress, the United Nations, the capitals of the Free World, and from the dissidents in the Communist world on what is happening now...

The WESTERN GOALS REPORT and all special publications will be sent to those who send their tax-deductible gift of $50 or more per year.

longer resist. A murderer is less to be feared. The traitor is the carrier of the plague.

In Broken Seals, the staff of Western Goals Foundation have given a review of the current state of national emergency. The distinguished statesman, Congressman Ashbrook, writes an introduction from the perspective of one with twenty years of experience on Capitol Hill. No Member of Congress can equal his years on committees dealing with subversion and intelligence. The final word is from Lt. Gen. Daniel Graham, the former Chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency. He makes the unusual but accurate parallel between the United States today and the blinded Samson of the Old Testament. Samson found that:

Blind among enemies, O worse than chains,
Dungeons, or beggary, or decrepit age!

—Samson Agonistes

From the recorded history of the Old Testament and other ancient writings down to the present, the warnings are clear: Disregard internal security and national intelligence and plan to lose your civilization.

The lessons of history are severe.

Sincerely,

Lawrence P. McDonald
